Some Like It Hot

In our last issue, we reported that a new restaurant was opening in the Radisson Plaza Hotel on Seventh Street in Minneapolis, but at press time, the concept by nationally known developer Royce Ring was still under wraps.

Now the FireLake Restaurant is open and accepting reservations.

The food created by executive chef Paul Lynch is inspired by Midwestern cuisine mixed with a Mediterranean flair. The restaurant seats 188 people and includes a main dining room and bar area plus two private dining rooms. Entrances to the restaurant are from the hotel lobby as well as from Seventh Street.

For more information or to view the menu, visit www.firelakerestaurant.com. Call 612-216-3437 for reservations.

The neutral colors at FireLake Restaurant were inspired by the flavors and styles of the Mediterranean.
